

7th European
Phycological Congress
25-30 August 2019
Zagreb, Croatia

With great pleasure we invite you to the EPC7 in Zagreb, one of the youngest European capitals.

The Congress includes plenary presentations, a series of symposia and workshops, contributed papers and posters that will cover a broad range of topics spanning from algal diversity, ecology, genomics, cell biology, applied phycology and many more.

The Local Organising Committee and the International Scientific Committee, with the full support of the Federation of European Phycological Societies and the Phycology section of Croatian Botanical Society, have worked in close cooperation to organise a successful and enjoyable Congress.
